

The wide range of FAMI containers features:

- metal containers, available in mesh and sheet steel:
- plastic containers

A common feature of the metal containers is the sheet steel base reinforced by cross ribbing that guarantees stability and resistance even to heavier loads

Various models feature side flaps that can be opened to allow their contents to be removed even when stacked.

The insides of the containers can be divided into various compartments thanks to the practical dividers in painted sheet metal.

